

GERMANY HID SECRET PLANS TO GET WAR SUPPLIES HERE

Pushing Campaign to Stop Shipment to Allies, Her Agents Built Factory for Shell Making, Bought Powder and Acid.

That Germany, although protesting against the shipment of munitions to her enemies, has herself been secretly planning to secure them, is shown in correspondence published to-day in The World in its new instalment of the German propaganda revelations.

One feature of the correspondence relates to the financing of the Bridgeport Projectile Company at Bridgeport, Conn., by Hugo Schmidt, Western agent of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, now assigned to assist General Financial Agent Albert in New York in handling large sums from the Imperial German Government.

American officers are supposed to control the company. Correspondence shows the projectile company received money from the Guaranty Trust Company, acting on authority from the Deutsche Bank; that last July it contracted for amokse powder with the Asta Explosive Company, the President of which is a British subject and who is highly indignant at the possibility of supplying powder for making shrapnel for the German army.

A reference in the memorandum of contract advises Herr Schmidt that representatives of the Russian and English Governments were bidding for the product of the Bridgeport projectile company, and that it was intended to make contracts without a penalty clause for non-fulfillment and without any serious purpose of delivery.

Plans are also clearly set forth in

RED SPOTS WOULD ITCH AND BURN

On Hand and Arm. Formed
Crust. Could Not Sleep. Head
A Sight to See.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"The first I knew little red spots came out on my hand and arm, and in a few days they formed a crust, that you could run your finger over and it would burn and bleed. They would itch and burn so I had to put gloves on so I would not scratch. When I put my hand in water it would burn and feel as if there was fire in it. I could not sleep and my hand was a sight to see."

"I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In three weeks it was all gone from my hand and arm, and I have not been bothered since." (Signed) Mrs. Howard Harrington, Hartwick, N. Y., Feb. 8, 1915.

to-day declined to discuss The World's revelations on German propaganda outside the official family, but it can be stated positively that every detail of the stories printed in The World is being carefully considered, with a view to dealing with the situation brought about by the activities of the German agents, if the facts developed seem to justify it.

The President and various members of his Cabinet are known to be deeply concerned in the serious developments brought out by The World.

Three departments are busy studying the details of the case. The State Department is especially interested in the statement and the evidence that connects Ambassador Bernstorff and his associates at the German Embassy with the campaign waged by Berlin in this country to influence public opinion and stop the exportation of munitions of war.

The Department of Justice is especially interested in the features of the case that indicate that Germans and others in this country have violated the neutrality laws.

The Post Office Department, which has once before had up the question of whether Fatherland should be permitted to go through the mails, is looking for evidence that the postal laws have been violated.

A. Bruce Blaisdell, Chief of the Division of Investigation of the Department of Justice, who, it is understood, has seen much of the correspondence in the possession of The World, has held two conferences with Secretary Lansing within the last forty-eight hours. When asked to-day if he would say what he and Blaisdell had discussed, Mr. Lansing answered in the negative.

Following up the disclosures made by The World, Attorney General Gregory was notified to-day by John L. Neely, United States District Attorney for the Northern District of Florida, that August Ortolph, claiming to be a native of Germany, who was arrested in Florida last Friday, will have a hearing to-day. When taken into custody by agents of the Department of Justice, Ortolph had in his possession sketches and photographs of forts along the southern coast of the United States. The department officials believe that Ortolph was working under orders of high German officials, whose names have already appeared in The World as forming the backbone of the propaganda of that Government.

Under the Criminal Code of the United States Ortolph is liable to imprisonment for one year and a fine of $1,000, or both, if convicted of the charge made against him.

Asked if his department had taken any official cognizance of the charges printed in The World, the Attorney General replied: "Not as yet. The department investigators, however, will go over them very carefully and if violations of the Federal laws are discovered these responsible will be prosecuted."

DARK BEER FOR MOURNING.
It Was Mother-in-Law's Death That Got Weaver Off Wagon.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Aug. 17.—Harrymore Weaver was arraigned before Judge Lockwood to-day for being drunk.

"Your Honor," he said, "I didn't touch a drop in ten years till mother-in-law died; then I thought water wasn't an appropriate drink for a man in mourning, so I got dark beer just to make appearances right."

"Well, you get ninety days now," said the judge.

Annoyed Jewel Robbers Held.
Anthony De Lalla and Morris Dickler, who confessed to robbing the jewelry store of Morris Stern, at Eighty-eighth Street and Third Avenue, on Jan. 20 last of $12,000 worth of jewelry, waived examination before Magistrate Ten Eyck in the Harlem Court to-day and were held in $10,000 bail for trial.

Dickler was a clerk in the store and is charged with working with De Lalla in the hold-up.
